Skagit Valley College teacher receives excellence award

Skagit Valley College instructor Roxanne Hulet was recently honored with a 2012 Teacher of Excellence Award from The Evergreen State College. The award honors teachers who have made a difference in the lives of their students.

Hulet was nominated by former SVC student Tomi Harju, who now attends Evergreen State College. Harju noted Hulet's passion for organic chemistry is "very infectious and makes learning complex topics fun." He also said she goes out of her way for students whenever necessary.

Hulet is one of 50 elementary, secondary or college teachers from 10 states and 2 countries to receive the Evergreen Excellence Award. Each teacher receives a certificate and a window decal.
